Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Vanessa and Sally are going to talk about their families.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the sound bl.
- I can stress new information.
- I can talk about plans and intentions.

Ask your partner:

- Are you close to your family? Why or why not?
- Why are you close to some family members and not others?

Let's Explore!

Listen to Vanessa and Sally talk about Sally's extended family.

* "Extended family" means aunts, uncles and cousins.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Hey Sal, what's new with you?
Sally: Not much. I was just speaking to a friend who works in HR downtown.
Vanessa: Why? Are you looking to change jobs?
Sally: No ... remember I told you about my cousin, Nick? The one who was kicked out of the house?
Vanessa: That's right. What are you going to do?
Sally: I'm going to see if I can use my connections. My uncle is too overbearing. Sometimes he is far too blunt with his comments.
Vanessa: Did this come out of the blue or was your uncle always so difficult?
Sally: As I told you, he's stubborn and blatantly unyielding.
Vanessa: Oh dear, it's better that your cousin is going to change environments.
Sally: I am looking forward to seeing him. We get on like a house on fire.
Vanessa: Are you going to be a kind of role model to him?
Sally: I'm not sure about that. I know that he went from a child to a teenager in a blink of an eye.
Vanessa: I'm sure you'll have a blast together!

Let's Practice!

What is Sally going to do to help her cousin?

Learning Points

Consonant Clusters - Bl Sound

Consonant clusters like bl can occur at the beginning of a word in English.

Practice blending the sound from one consonant sound into the next without adding a vowel sound in between.

Look and say the words in the chart aloud.

bleed	bleak	blink	bliss	bless
blur	bloom	blame	blaze	blast
blind	blank	blue	black	bloat

Examples:

- Sometimes he is far too blunt with his comments.
- Did this come out of the blue or was your uncle always so difficult?
- As I told you, he's stubborn and blatantly unyielding.
- I know that he went from a child to a teenager in a blink of an eye.

Learning Points

Stressing new Information

Sentence stress gives English its rhythm or "beat".

Word stress is emphasis on one syllable within a word.

Sentence stress is emphasis on certain words within a sentence.

Most sentences have two basic types of words:

content words

- Content words are the important or key words in a sentence. They provide the meaning of the sentence.

structure words

- Structure words are not important words. They are small words that you use to make the sentence correct.

Stressing New Information

You pronounce new information with more breath force, since it is more prominent.

Examples:

- Jim: Where are you going?
- Lucy: I'm going to Boston.
