

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Working at a magazine can be challenging!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you read magazines?
- Where do you read them?
- What interests you in them?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk about behavior and personality.
- I can talk about future action, plans and intentions.

Let's Explore!

What's happening with Sally these days?

* "These days" refers to the present time in comparison to the past.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: So, enough about me. What's happening with you these days?
Sally: Actually, I have some good news at work.
Peter: Really? What is it? You won another million dollars?
Sally: Hey - enough wisecracks out of you! Well, it kind of feels like that. I got promoted!
Peter: Wow! Congratulations. You are a real go-getter, Sal. I'm not surprised, really.
Sally: Thanks. So, I'm having a meeting with the editor-in-chief next week. I'm nervous about that ...
Peter: You? Nervous? You're always so gregarious.
Sally: The editor is a little ruthless. I mean, she's brilliant and obviously an excellent manager, but people say she is hard to please. She always looks fierce - ready to take on anything.
Peter: Kind of like you! I'll bet the meeting is going to go just fine. Don't be such a worrywart.
Sally: You're right. I'll try to be more optimistic about it.
Peter: Are you going to call me next week and tell me how it went?
Sally: Sure. I'll call you Monday night. Wish me luck!
Peter: Fingers crossed for you, Sal.

Let's Practice!

Sally talks about her new job!

Instructions: Select the correct word to complete the sentence.

1. The _____ is a little ruthless.
 - a. editor
 - b. edit
 - c. edition
2. I'll bet the _____ is going to go just fine.
 - a. reunite
 - b. reunion
 - c. meeting
3. She's brilliant and obviously an excellent. _____.
 - a. manger
 - b. manager
 - c. management
4. I got _____ !
 - a. prompted
 - b. promoted
 - c. ascended
5. I'm having a meeting with the _____ next week.
 - a. editor the chief
 - b. editing the chief
 - c. editor in chief

Let's Practice!

When will Sally tell Peter about her interview?

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence.

1. call / you / night / . / on / I'll / Monday

2. tell / to / next / Are / it / week / going / you / me / to / ? / call / how / me / went

3. more / . / to / about / be / try / I'll / it / optimistic

4. bet / I'll / go / to / going / is / just / meeting / . / fine / the

5. having / the / chief / week / next / I'm / with / . / in / a / editor / meeting

Extension Activity

Match jobs and personal qualities!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Cut up index cards into 4 equal parts.
- On 8 cards, write adjectives for personal qualities.
- On 8 cards write job names.
- Bring your cards to class and mix them with your partner's.
- Turn up 1 card from each set.
- Explain why a person in that job does or does not need to have that personal quality.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I write adjectives for personality and behavior on cards.

☐ ☐

I write write job names on cards.

☐ ☐

I talk about jobs and personal qualities.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- wisecrack (noun): a joke that criticizes e.g. Enough wisecracks out of you!
- to promote (verb): to advance someone to a higher position
e.g. I got promoted last week!
- go-getter (noun): someone who works hard to achieve
e.g. She's a real go-getter and always ready to work hard.
- editor-in-chief (noun): the overall editor of a publication
e.g. The editor-in-chief always has the last word on the publication.
- ruthless (adjective): showing no pity or compassion
e.g. I heard that the editor is ruthless
- manager (noun): the person responsible for overseeing part of a company.
e.g. The store manager is always fair when giving out work hours.
- fierce (adjective): aggressive
e.g. I heard that the new editor is fierce!
- worrywart (noun): someone who worries all the time, usually for no reason e.g. He is such a worrywart and there is no need for it.
- optimistic (adjective): hopeful and confident
e.g. They are optimistic about the future of the company.
- to have your fingers crossed (expression): to wish for luck; to wish for a positive outcome
e.g. I'll keep my fingers crossed when you go to your interview!

Learning Points

Talking on the Phone

To keep a conversation going in English, it's important to show that you are interested. You can use different types of questions.

For example:

What's happening with you these days?

Really?

What is it?

You won another million dollars?

When you want to end a casual conversation, you can say bye, or just leave with a comment.

Ending a Conversation With Friends

Bye. Talk to you later!

Gotta go!

Something is coming for you. I feel it. Bye.

Learning Points

The Future

Comparison of future tenses: going to, will, and Present Continuous

Going to	Will	Present Continuous
an intention or decision made about the future	a prediction for the future	action already arranged or planned for the near future
prediction based on knowledge or information	a promise
	a decision made spontaneously

Examples:

- It's not going to snow. I'm certain. It's too warm.
- In ten years, I'm going to be boss of my own successful company.
- I'll call you on Monday night.
- I'll try to be more optimistic about it.
- I'm meeting her at 6:30.
- They aren't arriving until Tuesday.

